NEW BRUNSWICK ART SALON, SPRING' 11

Juried Show for Emerging and Professional Artists

About the Exhibition

In the 18th and 19th century, Art Salons were the greatest annual or biannual art events in the Western world, celebrating the farthest advances in academia and the arts. The Alfa Art Gallery, in order to bridge talented and highly esteemed artists with the New Brunswick public, holds its own Art Salon exhibition biannually in the spring and fall.

Call for Entries

The Alfa Art Gallery would like to invite artists to submit work for the New Brunswick Art Salon, Spring'11. There will be two artist categories: newly emerging artists and professional artists.

All submissions must be in by April 1.

Artists will be notified if their work is accepted by April 4. The exhibition opening will be held on April 22.

Theme

For this exhibition, artists must submit works celebrating diversity or unity in a community.

Submission Requirements

All applicants must be associated with New Brunswick as a resident or as an artist who exhibits in New Jersey. Students and faculty members of Rutgers University and neighboring schools may enter. You must at least be pursuing an undergraduate career to participate. Degree does not need to be related to art. There is no limit to the number of works entered.

To enter for consideration, please email the following to info@alfaart.org:

- Images with title/dimensions
- Resume/CV
- Statement about your work
